

Michelle Thatcher

A well-known Central Florida environmental activist, Michelle Thatcher is currently national director of the U.S. Green Chamber of Commerce, which she co-founded in 2010.

She served as Executive Director of the Association of Florida Conservation Districts, a non-profit organization for the state's 63 Soil and Water Districts, from 2006-2010. Earlier, she served as Executive Director of Seminole Soil and Water District for four years. She was President of the Friends of Natural Lands and Trails and was an appointed member of the Seminole County Natural Lands committee and a board member of Keep Seminole Beautiful, Inc.

Ms. Thatcher graduated from Western Washington University. She is currently working with Equinox Documentaries, Inc. as director, producer, and co-writer for a nature/environmental film about her solo kayak journey down the St. Johns River, Alligator Princess of America's Nile.